

The Wykamol Group are pleased to announce that we have purchased Triton Systems of London

Founded in 1976 and trading as Triton Chemicals for many years, the company has a long history in the damp, timber and waterproofing sectors.

The company will still be running independently for the foreseeable future with the experienced sales team that they have, but will have the additional benefits of some of Wykamol's extensive range of products, laboratory and manufacturing facilities.

It's amazing to have two companies with over 130 years of trading history now part of one merged group.

More news to follow but we're excited for the future of both brands moving forward.
